

man, menacing Whorley with his black-jack, drove the Newark man into the bathroom and slammed the door on him. Handbobe, swinging his black-jack at the two women, ordered them to stand behind the table and while they stood there he emptied their handbags and then began stripping the jewelry from their throats and fingers.

PASTOR'S WORDS LED TO WORSHIPPER'S DEATH

Man of 78 Succumbed as Parson Quoted. Special Dispatch to The New York Herald-Tribune, Dec. 15.—In the midst of his life in death, quoted the Rev. Abel Tard to a group of worshippers at the Star of Bethlehem Mission, 79 Clinton street, last night.

GRACE WOULD END ALL BUILDING HERE TO FIGHT UNIONISM

Bethlehem Co. Steel Sold Only to Erectors Hiring Open Shop Labor.

PHILADELPHIA BAN TOO

Untermeyer at Hearing Rakes Concern of Which He Is Largest Holder.

F. A. VANDERLIP QUERY UP

Retirement of Bank Head Is Coupled With His Holdings in George A. Fuller Co.

The Bethlehem Steel Corporation is prepared to carry through to the finish its fight for the principle of the open shop in American industry, convinced firmly that such a policy holds the greatest promise for both labor and capital in the future.

Even if it meant stopping all building in New York, regardless of how far reaching the immediate results might be, Mr. Grace declared he believed his company would maintain its position—that its product should not be sold to builders to be erected by union labor.

He and his directors, who control the output of more than 70,000 workmen, believe firmly that employees should have representation in dealing with employers, but not the right of unionism and dictation, Mr. Grace said.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

Mr. Grace was on the stand for almost two hours under rigid cross-examination by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee.

blacklisted and unable to obtain work under the open shop method because they were known as union men. A system of espionage was maintained through a detective agency, they declared, whereby their clothes were searched, and if they were found to be union members they were discharged.

Mr. Untermeyer informed the committee he had written to Charles M. Schwab, offering the chairmanship of the Bethlehem board the opportunity to take the witness stand if he wished to answer testimony given Tuesday relating to a conference at which he was quoted as saying Black would not be admitted to the closed shop practice.

Mr. Grace said he was president of some of the subsidiary companies controlled by the Bethlehem, but could not tell which ones except the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, and the Bethlehem Building Corporation.

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

It was to protect their interest in line with what they considered the right policy for their interest I would not consider it arrogant, but self-protection.

There has never been a case, the witness said, where the union refused to join the Bethlehem products because they came from a non-union shop, yet he thought it might happen. Mr. Untermeyer said he was not concerned with Mr. Grace's "hopes or expectations, but wanted facts. The witness knew nothing about the Iron League or its affiliations. The Bethlehem company itself does steel erecting.

Senator Kaplan asked Mr. Grace a series of questions. "What is your definition of an open shop?" "Where any man can work, where there is no discrimination against employment of any man to do any kind of work."

Mr. Grace said, adding that he did not know the membership of the league or that its policy was exclusively open shop. "You think it is a proper thing, yes, to protect the open shop."

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

It was to protect their interest in line with what they considered the right policy for their interest I would not consider it arrogant, but self-protection.

There has never been a case, the witness said, where the union refused to join the Bethlehem products because they came from a non-union shop, yet he thought it might happen. Mr. Untermeyer said he was not concerned with Mr. Grace's "hopes or expectations, but wanted facts. The witness knew nothing about the Iron League or its affiliations. The Bethlehem company itself does steel erecting.

Senator Kaplan asked Mr. Grace a series of questions. "What is your definition of an open shop?" "Where any man can work, where there is no discrimination against employment of any man to do any kind of work."

Mr. Grace said, adding that he did not know the membership of the league or that its policy was exclusively open shop. "You think it is a proper thing, yes, to protect the open shop."

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

Mr. Untermeyer asked Mr. Grace if he knew what you mean. I don't really know. I think you know what I want to know, and I think I am going to find out. Assuming that all manufacturers of fabricated steel in the United States, joined together, and say to all the men who use steel in construction in the United States, that they can't have any steel unless they will erect it a manner dictated by the manufacturers or steel fabricators, do you think that would be the proper thing?

BLACK STARR AND FROST ESTABLISHED 110 YEARS AGO. Gifts of Distinction for the Holiday Season. PEARLS, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, WATCHES, SILVERWARE, GOLDWARE, STATIONERY, LEATHER GOODS. Customers Served By Mail.

DOBBS Useful articles of refined taste will be unusually popular for Holiday Gifts this year. Dobbs & Co., New York's leading HATTERS, suggest a selection from the following list. The name of Dobbs is a guarantee of correctness and quality. For Men: Dobbs Derby Hats, Dobbs Valour Hats, Dobbs Soft Hats, Dobbs Cloth Hats, Dobbs Caps, Dobbs Mufflers, Dobbs Coats, Dobbs Umbrellas, Dobbs Gloves, Dobbs Hat Boxes, Dobbscoats, Dobbs Motor Rugs. For Women: Dobbs Sweaters, Dobbs Mufflers, Dobbs Waists, Dobbs Sport Hats, Dobbscoats. Dobb's Holiday Orders afford the opportunity for personal selection of specific gifts, or of articles of specified value. Exclusive Representations in Many of the Principal Cities.

J.M. Gidding & Co. 664-566 and 568 Fifth Avenue. 46th and 47th Sts.

HOLIDAY FURS AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

The following items in most cases comprise one of a kind and are listed for immediate sale, therefore it is impossible for us to guarantee having same on hand after to-day; early selection is accordingly advised.

- DAY COATS: Short Black Russian Pony Coat ($175), Leopard and Hudson Seal Coat ($250), Short Grey Squirrel Sport Coat ($295), Short Mole Coat ($395), Hudson Seal Coat ($500). SCARFS: Natural Stone Marten Scarfs ($35), Natural Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs ($65), Cross Fox Scarfs ($95), Russian Sable Scarfs ($295). EXQUISITE FUR-TRIMMED WRAPS: Formerly to $550—at $195—$245—$350. HANDSOME EVENING GOWNS: Formerly to $295—at $95—$125—$195.

The Modese Shoe. The Modese shoe for women is built on true orthopedic lines by the J. & T. Cousins Co. of Brooklyn. Modese has all the qualities of fine shoe making, for which this firm has been famous for three-quarters of a century, and differs from the ordinary orthopedic or "comfort" shoe in that it can be worn with pride as well as with ease. Made in boots and low shoes in a variety of materials, and skillfully fitted by Modese specialists who have made a study of the various foot troubles which can be corrected by shoes properly made and fitted. May we show you Modese Shoes? 22 East 48th Street (Between Fifth and Madison Avenues).

The Colony Restaurant 667 MADISON AVE. at 61st STREET Opens To-night at 8 P. M. A. Borgo, Manager

BANDITS SENTENCED 2 DAYS AFTER CRIME

Speed Record for Justice Is Broken in Cases of Men Who Robbed Inn.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald-Tribune, Dec. 15.—All records for meeting out justice in New York State were broken in the Supreme Court here today when the four men who held up Glenwood Inn Monday afternoon and stabbed Francis Cornell, the proprietor, after robbing him of $10,000, were arraigned on indictments charging robbery, permitted to plead guilty, and sentenced to from nine and a half to fifteen years in Sing Sing prison.

The prisoners, Eugene Ryan, John G. Verri, Joseph D. Verrillo and James Carrol, all of New York city, will not be sent to Sing Sing immediately. Goff, who is in St. Luke's Hospital here, is in a serious condition. He was stabbed in the chest and through the abdomen, and is in charge of his case. Doctors here believe he has better than a fifty-fifty chance of recovery.

Each of the four men was indicted on two counts. Their sentences will not run concurrently, and they face the possibility of spending thirty-nine years each at hard labor.

Monday afternoon they descended on Glenwood Inn in a cloud of dust, and leaving their automobile entered the place as patrons would be expected to enter. Goff found himself looking into the barrels of four revolvers before he could leave the dining room. One of the men pressed close to him when he began an argument, and a knife, concealed at the side of one of the revolvers, was stuck into him.

Jewelry, bonds and cash, totalling $10,000, were taken and the men made off in the automobile. The police in cities nearby were notified and State troopers took the trail. Late in the afternoon Trooper Boyce, Capt. Bush and Tuxedo Park police and a posse of eight men took places along the road near the park gates. They carried shotguns with raked off barrels.

They were in ambush only a few minutes when the roar of the bandits' car was heard. Twenty yards from the point where the posse lay concealed the engine stalled. Before the car could be started, the alighting room of the car had leaped into it and disarmed the bandits. They were taken to Goshen.

In the car when the men were arrested were found a diamond ring worth $3,000, the property of Goff, some bonds and much cash. The bandits made no attempt to defend themselves against the charges.

Since the arrests the police of Newburgh have been informed that the four convicted men were in league with six others to commit the robbery. Three men known to have been at the inn several days ago have been held for questioning by the police of Nyack.

WOMAN REVEALS SUPPRESSED THEFT

Mrs. Guttler Robbed of $7,000 on December 4.

Mrs. Abraham Guttler of 644 Riverside Drive, who reported yesterday that she was bound and robbed of jewelry and cash valued at $7,000 in her apartment on December 4, said last night that except for a visit of two detectives, who called three hours after the robbery, neither she nor Mr. Guttler had heard anything from the police. Mrs. Guttler had been cautioned against making public a report of the robbery.

The apartment on the eighth floor, and the manner in which the man got out after the robbery has proved puzzling. The elevator operator recalled answering a ring from the eighth floor, found no one there, and returned directly to the first floor, and no one was in the hall. It was not believed the man could have escaped while the car made the two trips.

Reporting Mrs. Guttler a "man pointing a detective rang at the door and pushed in, drawing a revolver. She said he snatched her rings and purse and then tied her and locked her in a room. She was released by an Irish man who heard the call. Mr. Guttler is a member of Guttler & Hartzfeld, coat and suit manufacturers of 7 West Thirtieth street.

Edward Marks, 26, of 111 East 116th street, arrested in connection with the robbery on Tuesday of $4,000 in jewelry from the shop of Henry Davidoff, 1744 Madison avenue, was held yesterday in $75,000 bail in Harlem court. Charles Glinkin, 22, of 4833 Third avenue, who was arrested in the same case, was held in $25,000 bail. Magistrate Manous commended Kate Berg, 12, of 115 East 104th street, for giving the alarm which led to the arrests.

A conviction of grand larceny in the second degree was returned in Kings County court yesterday against Elias Rosenthal, 28, a Russian, of 329 Throft road, who admitted to Judge Dike last spring that he was an anarchist and asked to be deported.

Bosch was convicted in March of petty larceny after a series of "dinner burglaries" in Flatbush, and Judge Dike tried to arrange for deportation, but failed because there was no international agreement with Russia. Bosch will be sentenced next Tuesday on the present conviction.

COUZENS'S HOME ROBBED.

Detroit Police Sought to Hide Mayor's $10,000 Loss.

Special Dispatch to The New York Herald-Tribune, Dec. 15.—Notwithstanding secrecy which surrounds a report on File Police Headquarters that thieves Tuesday night robbed the residence of Detroit Mayor, James Couzens, in Longfellow avenue, and the denial of Couzens that implicating each other, according to the report of the police today, the men admitted Paul was killed in James's automobile and the body buried. They hid most of the money in a Camden cemetery and went on a five day bachelors' party, during which they spent nearly $1,000 a day.

WOMEN DEMANDED ON JURY IN MURDER CASE

Trial for Death of Bank Messenger in Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 15.—Attorneys for Frank L. James, whose trial for the murder of David S. Paul, aged bank messenger, began here today in the Supreme Court before Justice Katzenbach, made an attempt to overturn the jury panel drawn for the case on the ground that no women had been on the list of prospective jurors. They held that since women have been given the ballot they should serve on juries and their names should appear on the jury lists.

Justice Katzenbach, however, overruled their motion to dismiss, holding that "no constitutional or other rights of the defendant have been withheld by the omission of women as jurors." An exception to the ruling was noted by the defense and allowed by the court.

Nine of the twelve jurors who are to hear the trial were selected. Twice during the process of selecting the jurors James became ill and had to be removed from the court room until he had recovered. More than 5,000 persons tried to get into the court room, where the prosecution had brought a number of extras, including the stained floor boards of the automobile in which Paul is supposed to have been killed, the seat cushion which was thrown away, and the spring coat, fashioned into a tire iron, which the State charges was used to beat the old man to death.

Raymond W. Schuck, also indicted in connection with the murder, is expected to be a witness in the present trial. Schuck's case is set for January 4. Aliens probably will figure in the trial, three of them having recently examined James in the Camden county jail. This has given rise to a report that the question of the alien's sanity might be brought into the case and that his defense may be along that line.

Paul was killed October 5, according to statements made by the county authorities to have been made by James and Schuck after their arrest. Paul was taking $10,000 in cash and $30,000 in checks to a Philadelphia bank when he disappeared. Eleven days later his body was found in a shallow grave in the Jersey pine belt in Burlington county. The cash was missing, but virtually all the checks were found on the body. He had been killed by a blow on the head.

James and Schuck are alleged to have made statements in the Burlington county jail implicating each other, according to the report of the police today. The men admitted Paul was killed in James's automobile and the body buried. They hid most of the money in a Camden cemetery and went on a five day bachelors' party, during which they spent nearly $1,000 a day.